Some "Big" Words.
A physician writing in the Medical Review says that many women whom he observed at the theatre are "hebetudinous." Unless the author of the allegation is a psychologist possessing propensities for spontaneous action in the subconscious mind, arriving at conclusions by a process of ratiocination characteristic of phrenologists, his own case may be diagnosed as dictionariomania.—Exchange.

Letter from Lasater, alias Pyland on the Rhine.

Dr. Ellis, physician and surgeon of our city, shouldered his pill bags this morning March, the 4th, in-auguration day, and struck out across the Bosphorus when he engaged his services to the Glen Lumber Co., and all the people mourn. Must Dr. Ellis be forgot,
And never brought to mind;
And the good deeds that he hath wrought

In Lasater on the Rhine.
Nay, verity says two lovely maidens who deeply mourn his departure, and all through the day and into the gloaming are heard humming these words:
Behold your little turtle dove
Sitting on yonder pine,
Mourning for its own true love
An so do I for mine.

While ye Stoney who is a ladies man and is always in sympathy with the bereaved would say cheer up dear girls, Judge J. L. Ford, whose smiles grow deeper and broader as the years role by is still hoping to discover the eye of pitty and says all he asks is a little woman who can cook good fritters and make beef soup

Having known Dr. Ellis long and intimately am prepared to say, he is a gentleman and a scholar, and being a Baptist, are won't to say a very good judge of good whiskey. Trust in his new home he will find oodles of friends and a beavy of lovely maidens, who are won't to strew roses in his pathway.

STONEWALL No. 2.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs, says Hon. John Shenick, 220 S. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by W. J. Sedberry.

NECROLOGY.

Mrs. M. J. Johnson, was born in the State of Alabama. In early youth she removed to the State of Mississippi, afterwards coming to Texas to make her home. She died Feb. 24, 1905, at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Nichols.

In early youth she united with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church while residing in the State of Mississippi, but after her removal to Texas, she cast in her lot with the Presbyterians of Jefferson, becoming one of the first members of this church. She was a good christian and greatly attached to her church, and was very faithful in attendance upon the services of the sanctuary till prevented by failing health.

In her declining days all was done to make her life comfortable as possible. A few days before her death she thanked her sister-in-law for her devotion and tender care for her while sojourning in her home, and was thankful that her lines had fallen to her in pleasant places.

A short while before the summons came from her heavenly Father to come home her pastor read the 14th chapter John's gospel to her, and her face lit up with joy as she heard her Savior's words about the prepared home, and she would repeat many lines of those sweet promises after him.

Mrs. Johnson was the only sister of Messrs. William, Theo. and Bass Nichols, who will be remembered as eminent merchants of Jefferson.

She leaves many relatives and a host of friends to mourn her death, but we sorrow not as those who have no hope. Truly a mother in Israel has gone from us, but rejoice that in the last hours her faith failed her not.

May we all lean upon the promises of the Good Shepherd as we enter the Valley of Shadows.

The services were held at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Nichols, the sister-in-law of the deceased, and were conducted by Revs. J. H. Bellott and Jno. W. Holt.

Her remains were taken to the beautiful Oak Wood cemetery and laid to rest, there to await the summons of the Judge of all the earth.

HER PASTOR.

NECROLOGY.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stallcup was born in Henry County, Tennessee, October, 1822, and died February 22, 1905.

She was married to William Stallcup March 19, 1846, near the town of Jefferson, Texas. Four children—three sons and one daughter came to bless this union. The three sons still survive her mourn her loss, while her husband and daughter have preceded her to the great beyond to whose realm we all are hastening.

Mrs. Stallcup was a devout christian, having confessed her Savior in early life. She united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church in her youth, and has been a devoted member of the church for many years. One of her favorite passages of Scripture and one with which she could say with the inspired Apostle, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day." II Timothy 4:8. May we all be able to add our testimony to hers when the trying hour comes.

The funeral services were held at the family residence, fifteen miles out from Jefferson, and were largely attended by the friends and relatives of the family. Two of her sons were present at the funeral but the other was seriously ill with la grippe and could not be present.

A large number of colored people were present to show their love and respect to one who had been so kind to them.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of all their friends, and we point them to the One, who said: "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

The remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground, near her home.

Champion Liniment for Rheumatism.

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the store-keeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by W. J. Sedberry.

Great encouragement is held out that the cotton mill at Denison will pass into hands of capitalists who will operate it in the spring. The mill cost $500,000 and the machinery is in good order.

Take No Substitute.

The housefly is a most dangerous as well as annoying creature. In its daily walk of life its six small legs get into thousands of places where disease germs lurk, and so infinitesimal are these that when the fly moves millions of them are attached to his legs. When he alights on food or person some of these are dislodged and their way into the human system. There is no doubt that, should the fly be exterminated, the human race would be much benefited.
